No Defence

Lucie Silvas

Armed with an arrow
You're pointing it straight at my heart
Watching me break as I try
Find my way out the darkThey say each moment comes to an end
So my pain is its consequence
It's a battle and I have no defenseSure as you said that you loved me
You turned me away
Suddenly everything changed
Right in front of my faceThey say sometimes loves just unfair
But why is it at my expense?
I've no answers and I have no defenseI guess I'll never understand
How love can come and go, go no
Looking through the broken glass
Now I know, knowEven though my bitter doubt
Lets my loneliness show
I'll get over, loving you in the endI wish that I had the courage
To leave you behind
'Cause you are the one that I'll love
For the rest of my lifeThey say someday I'll trust again
But it makes no difference
'Cause it's a battle and I have no defenseNo, no, no
It's a battle and I have no
No defense
