Developing Negative (feat. Craig Owens)

The Color Morale

I never knew exactly how this could feel,
Retelling stories from a movie life from reel to real.
You're still slowly developing and you'll die if you're exposed
To much light at one time.People like us have learned to feel at home
In the darkest corners of their minds.What hurts me the most,
Is hiding the scars across my body
And not knowing if they had a reason to close.You and I know the price,
Now it's time to make change.
Listen, decisions
Will need to be remade.[Chorus]
And I told to you,
Sometimes days like these don't change.
No (no)
And I know you and I we have the same trouble keeping blood in our veins.Addiction it's not so much about us overcoming,
Sometimes maybe itÃ¢Â€Â™s more about us just replacing.
Look, you and I will always have this song
Just like I know I had a reason to write it.
It's not just a breathless sing along.I will relive this
So that you'll never have to feel alone.
I will relive this
When you're alone.
I will be the voice inside of your headphones.[Chorus]
And I told to you,
Sometimes days like these don't change.
No (no)
And I know you and I we have the same trouble keeping blood in our veins.I know some days I wish I could just erase the past.
But if I hide my wounds ashamed,
Then you'd never know weÃ¢Â€Â™re the same.
Let my darkness illuminate,
Take my hand and let me light your way.
Let me light your way.Just keep the blood inside your veins!You and I know the price,
Now it's time to make change.
Listen, decisions
Will need to be remade.[Chorus]
And I told to you,
Sometimes days like these don't change.
No (no)

And I know you and I we have the same trouble keeping blood in our veins.
Keep the blood inside your veins.

Lyrics provided by
https://damnlyrics.com/