Always

Seventh Day Slumber

I'll never find the words to say
How beautiful you are, my son
And everyday that this life brings
You have to know how much you're loved
Even when I'm far away I will dream of you tonight
I will pray to God to bless your life always, always
As you grow and start to change
I will love you just the same always, always
And when you feel like giving up
I will walk you through the pain
And when you feel like life's too much
Remember Jesus is your strength always
There will come a day when I'll explain
All the mistakes your dad has made
I hope you see that it was Christ
And only Him that rescued me even when I fell away

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/