Latent Images - Token Entry

it's just another sunny day in the nonstop city you spend your first hour on the subway but that's another story anywhere i'd rather be right now than working for the minimum but still you just clench your teeth and swing your axe on a caffine awareness dodging pedestrians avoiding cars leaving latent images in strangers mind it seems you could blind us all we'd never know it's still me going where i have to go and so it goes till the end of the day till e realty think about what i've just done busting my ass for someone i don't even know for a criminal wage that will keep me firmly in poverty
