Melancholia

Quiet One

I've,
Just heard the news,
And now it's time,
To head for the hills

It's the end of the world,
You know it's justice for all that we have done

Hold,
Hold onto me,
We'll climb a mountain,
And watch the last scene,

It's,
The end of the world,
You know this is justice for we have done,

Then,
We heard the sounds,
We saw them drop,
Out of the clouds,
They,
Burnt all our hope,
The extra-terror,
Interrestial

They,
They took a world,
A world stood divided,
And worthless to all,
It's,
The end of the world,
You know this is justice for all we have done.

They,
Turned us to stone,
And they made statues out of our bones,
But I,
Stare at your face,

We stand eternally impressed

They,
Turned us to stone,
And they made statues out of our bones,
But I,
Stare at your face,
We stand eternally impressed
