Every Time You Turn Around

Daughtry

I been me, I been followin' my dreams
Tryin' to find the scene where you believed me
I been true, I been waiting here for you
I been patient, understanding and believingEvery time you turn around
I know you're standing there waiting for me
To take it on back down the other road baby
But I won't let you downI know you're standing there waiting for me
To take it on back down the other road baby
But I won't let you down every time you turn aroundI been good, I been doin' what I should Workin' hard to make a world that we can live in
I been strong, I been holdin' out so long
And I don't want you to forget you are forgivenI know you're standing there waiting for me
To take it on back down the other road baby
But I won't let you downI know you're standing there waiting for me
To take it on back down the other road baby
But I won't let you down every time you turn aroundAll the reasons you believe what you believe
Never seeing that the truth is a part of me
Now I'm gonna do is show you what it really means to love
What it really means to loveI know you're standing there waiting for me
To take it on back down the other road baby
But I won't let you downI see you standing there waiting for me
To take it on back down the other road baby
But I won't let you down every time you turn around
Every time you turn around, every time you turn around
Every time you turn around
