Changing Sky

Artemis

flat on my back spread out like a pinwheel impossible schemes won't explain the way i feel the way i feel about you widens my sky so many questions the sun is getting high you were a stranger

but you won't see me wide eyed and wondering why i build a lightning rod of my desire underneath
a changing sky thru stars for eyes you find mine experiments in chemistry make my spine a trail of volcanoes change the landscape of this mind the trail you blaze thru me widens my sky all of my yesterdays spill like pearls from my eyes

if you were a stranger i'd know how to say goodbye

but you won't see me wide eyed and wondering why

all of my yesterdays spill like pearls from my eyes

know how to say
underneath
