On The Morning Dew

Elvenking

At the border of the plain where suddenly the forest dies.
On the first day of the season, when the moon will shine full in the sky.
I will wait for you there bathed by a magic light.
I will wait, I will pray for this moment to become alive

For this night I will see you as an elf clad in leaves.
You are going to see myself the fairy of your secret dreams
Even if all this belongs to worlds of fantasy.
For this time, only this night everything is fair, belongs to me
One night fantasy

[Chorus]
Live my every breath, my every touch,
My every single sigh
Seizing hold of every glance
As the day's passing by begins a wonderful sight.
Dancing on the morning dew, the dawn has come only for you.
I look up at the sky for the stars to be my guide

At the border of the plain where suddenly the forest dies.
On the first day of the season when the moon will shine full in the sky.
I will wait for you there, bathed by a magic light.
I have waited, I have prayed and this moment has become alive.
One night fantasy.

[Chorus]

Lyrics powered by lyrics.tancode.com
written by F, AYDAN / F, AYDAN
Lyrics Â© EMI Music Publishing

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/