

Broken Open

Andrea Hamilton

Ooh iâ€™m broken open
Ooh splitting like a flower runaway
Do you know iâ€™m hoping
You follow me

Ooh i wake up starlight
Ooh angel breath, smoking waterfalls, itâ€™s
True; some donâ€™t believe me
Now what do i care

I want to tell you what i had to learn the hard way
Donâ€™t believe the corporate lullaby
Iâ€™ve seen where youâ€™ve been to(o) - in the cold and grey-tone friction but it
Isnâ€™t my intention just to stay here on the ground

Ooh iâ€™m broken open
Ooh pomegranate concrete casualty
Do do do do do do you know iâ€™m sweet and surprising
And through with looking good

And i want to tell you, but you have to learn the hard way
Thereâ€™s something far beyond mortality
Iâ€™ve seen what we get to - past the cold and grey-tone friction and i canâ€™t
Forget to mention we donâ€™t stay here on the ground

Ooh rise up weightless
Few see their body from the aerial
Blue, but now i believe it
There is so much more
