Lights In The Darkness

David Hasselhoff

Darling - why are you crying ?
I know it hurts to lose someone you love
But you know what - life can still be beautiful
And baby, let me also tell you this :
There is so much sadness in this world
But you have so many things which other people don't have
So think positive
Life must go on and trust me
The world will changeThe lights in the darkness will shine for the people in russia
Europe will win, perestroika from poland to romania
The lights in the darkness will shine
There's no reason to cry all day
Millions of people are dreaming to live like you
The better wayThe lights in the darkness will shine for the people in russia
Europe will win, perestroika from poland to romania
The lights in the darkness will shine
There's no reason to cry all day
Millions of people are dreaming to live like you
The better wayThe lights in the darkness will shine for the people in russia
Europe will win, perestroika from poland to romania
The lights in the darkness will shine
There's no reason to cry all day
Millions of people are dreaming to live like you
The better way
