Puzzle

Lou Barlow

It's a puzzle that served us well
I think you're funny and you love my smell
Not enough, a lifetime of stuff we could want
We were simply buried aliveTrapped in rapture, tied to the sky
Cuddle on the couch, tranquilize
And then you left me, if only in your eyes
Don't you want me?Rusted halo, use your wings
Hands on your hips, miss
Didnt miss a thing, you're not mine
Though you wear that ring, on your fingerOne crush had me crawling away
You crush me, brush me aside
But how could I be surprised?
That in between your shadow and your lightI did lose you
Fly without, never be denied
Let happen, fall, you'll be alright
I will catch youFly without, never be denied
If you love me, tell me with your eyes
They never lie
It's been a long year this yearGood or bad, I can't tell from here
What a thrill, mop up the spill with my heart
Theres a puzzle in your angel eyes
A piece we may never findA piece we may never find, at the same time
In between your shadow and your light
Theres an answer
In between your shadow and your light
