

Horizon (There Is a Road)

Suzanne Vega

There is a road
Beyond this one
It's called the path
We don't yet take I can feel how it longs
To be entered upon
It calls to me with a cry
And an ache As we go along this one
And we live the way we do
Love pulls us on to that
Distant horizon so true I knew a man
He lived in jail
And his tale
Is often told He dreamed of that line that he Called the divine
And when he was free
He led his country Yes he taught the way of love
And he lived in that way too
Love pulled him on to that
Distant horizon so true There is a road beyond this one
Called the path we don't yet take
I can feel how it longs to be entered upon
It calls to me with a cry and an ache As we go along this one
And we live the way we do
Love pulls us on to that distant horizon
Love pulled him on to that perfect horizon
Love pulls us on to that distant horizon
So true
