

It's Been a Summer

New Found Glory

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

I'm cracked from my head down to my spine
Ready to self destruct at any time
And I'm trying to convince myself that the way I feel is all I have
It could take a lifetime to realize that you're alright But she said, "I know when you would come back"
It's been a summer, it's burning up in here
Even though the bed is cold on your side
I'd rather die than spend this night here without you
Now, it's burning up in here even though the bed is cold on your side
I'd rather die than spend this night here without you, without you I would try to fix these flaws of mine
If I could just see you for one more time
And I'm trying to convince myself that the way I feel is all I have
I don't believe in sure things, there's pain in what the truth brings But she said, "I know when you would come back"
It's been a summer, it's burning up in here
Even though the bed is cold on your side
I'd rather die than spend this night here without you
Now, it's burning up in here even though the bed is cold on your side
I'd rather die than spend this night here without you, without you I'll be the first one to know
If it's wrong for me to just let it go
I'll be the laughing stock of all time
Person most likely to find deciding if it's fate
That made you avoid me 'til this day I know when you would come back
It's been a summer, it's burning up in here
Even though the bed is cold on your side
I'd rather die than spend this night here without you
Now, it's burning up in here even though the bed is cold on your side
I'd rather die than spend this night here without you, without you
