I Will Be There

Carl Anderson

If the shining star
that you wish upon
never shines no more,
you know I will be there for you.Girl, if you'd like please write my number down and keep it somewhere safe.
You never know when you might need a friend someone to help when no one else is near.If the shining star that you wish upon
never shines no more,
and the ocean roars,
and the rain should pour,
and the wind blows up a storm,
if the earth should shake,
or the skies should break,
or the sun should fall,
for you.You know my love for you will never change as long as I can breathe.
Girl I want you to know I'll always care, so call me if you ever feel the need.If you're near the end and your so called friends
start to disappear,
and you're losing sleep and you just can't keep on holding back the tears.
If your world begins
to start closing in,
just remember Dear,
you know I will be there.I'll be there, always for you.
I'll be there.
You know I will pull you through.If the shining star
that you wish upon
doesn't shine no more,

if the ocean roars,
and the rain should pour,
and the wind blows up a storm,
if the earth should shake,
or the skies should break,
or the sun should fall,
for you.If you're near the end
start to disappear,
holding back the tears.
to start closing in,
just remember Dear,
you know I will be there.
I will be there.
