

My Attendance Is Bad But My Intentions Are Good

PlayRadioPlay!

I sleep in but what am I missing?
I hate school and I'd rather stay in bed
Where I rest my lonely head I stay indoors 'cause outside it's pouring
I like the warmth and I'd rather stay inside
I'd rather stay inside Turn off the TV 'cause the Cowboys are losing Win Butler's lyrics in my head
Still stuck inside my head I look hard but can't find a reason
This year it's become kind of tough
To be at school enough And I know, and I know, I know
My attendance is bad
My intentions are good
My attendance is bad
My intentions are good
My attendance is bad And I know, and I know it
I know, and I know it
I know, and I know it
I know My attendance is bad
My intentions are good
My attendance is bad
My intentions are good
My attendance is bad
My intentions are good
My attendance is bad I sleep in but what am I missing?
I showered because you are out of town
When you're here, I tend to forget And I know, and I know, I know
My attendance is bad
My intentions are good
My attendance is bad
My intentions are good
My attendance is bad And I know, and I know, I know
My attendance is bad
My intentions are good
My attendance is bad
My intentions are good
My attendance is bad And I know, and I know, I know
My attendance is bad
My intentions are good
My attendance is bad
My intentions are good

My attendance is bad
