Save Me

Nate Sallie

Broken and fighting with myself
Looking for the answers
In the eyes of someone else
Crowded but I feel all aloneStranded on this highway
Trying to find my way back home
Please tell me the morning will come
Don't you see that I'm coming undoneAnd I need you toSave me from the walls that I build
From the broken heart inside of me
That just will not healSave me, when it's hard to believe
And the faith I need
Is so far from the world that I see
Won't you save me from myselfBleeding down here on my knees
If I lay down at the altar
Will set my spirit free
Crashing, from the life that I have livedBreathing in surrender
Hoping that you will forgive
Show me there's an end to this fight
And your love can make everything rightAnd I need you toSave me from the walls that I build
From the broken heart inside of me
That just will not healSave me, when it's hard to believe
And the faith I need
Is so far from the world that I see
Won't you save me from myself, save me
