

Sweet Memory

Tindersticks

Watching the days go by Isnt half the fun it used to be
When I could reach out
From inside the folds of your skinWatching the sun rush by Isnt as half as good now
Its all silent round here
Over the memory
The folds of your skinAnd I never wanna spend another day
Not a single moment from your side
No, I dont even wanna spend another day
Not a single moment from your sideOver the memory
The folds of your skin
Over sweet memory
And I can taste no otherCame running from nowhere fast
Came stumbling at me through the dark
Breaking right through my skin
And I can taste no otherCame like lightning in my arms
Came tearing through the night
Inside the memory
I can taste no otherAnd I never wanna spend another day
Not a single moment from your side
No, I dont even wanna spend another day
Not a single moment from your side
Still running forwards and backwards
Im inside and outside your loveAnd over the memory
I can taste no other
Over sweet memory
I can see no otherCame like lightning through my heart
Folds of your skin
Watching the sun by
I can taste no other
