

Cellar Door

Dying to Know

verse1

say your life had all these problems, everything always remembered.
you came and went away,
for all these tears that followed.
killing off those memories i've longed for,
you hold me down again
chasing off my dreams with the rain.

chorus

walk away i love the rain, i'm holding on again, holding on again, letting go. dont walk away, i keep holding on again, holding on again, letting go

verse2

memories of all these troubled times, in the night she cries again
holding on to her, through the pain sing your song of loneliness of life you captivate your own... songs of love may seem, filled with hate.

chorus2

walk away i love the rain, i'm holding on again, holding on again, letting go. dont walk away, i keep holding on again, holding on again, letting go, letting go
will you stay?

bridge

so why complain? holding on again, holding on again letting go.... walk away.... holding on again.. holding on again letting go....

holding on again, holding on again..

walk away, holding on again, holding on again letting go.. letting go... will you stay.....
so why complain?

will you stay..... away?
