

Ticket to Nowhere

Kenny Rogers

The train is comin' at six -oh - five
And I'll be gettin' on it to take a long ride
Back to an apartment so empty inside
With loneliness the only thing that's waitingI bought my ticket today
I just paid for one way
The price was too high for returningI have spent all my love
Getting none in return
I bought a ticket to nowhere todayAnd I still hear her voice
As it rings in my brain
Telling me she's in love
Oh, yes, well, reallyThat she's been hurt before
That's what first love is for
But now she's found the kind of love
That she's been needingShe's standing there so shy
Feeling nothing inside
Not seeing the pain my eyes are trying to hide
For her, it was fun, but it's all said and done
No love left in the silence of goodbyeAnd I still hear her voice
As it rings in my brain
Telling me she's in love
Oh, yes, well, reallyThat she's been hurt before
That's what first love is for
But now she's found the kind of love
That she's been needingI bought a ticket to nowhere today
I bought a ticket to nowhere today
I bought a ticket to nowhere today
I bought a ticket to nowhere today

Songwriters

MIKE SETTLEPublished by

Lyrics Â© T.R.O. INC. Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnlrics.com/>