Solitary Soul

Spock's Beard

I've been here since long ago
Waiting for the end
I don't need to have a home
But I could use a friendSo many people they don't give a damn
They look away when they see what I am
I've been like half a man but I could be whole
Won't you befriend this solitary soul?Got a lot of breezes left to blow
Where I'm going I don't know, oh
Got a lot of heartache I don't show
What it's like you'll never know
To be the solitary soul, yeahI've been here since long ago
Buried in my tears
Feels like I've walked alone
For a thousand yearsSo many people they don't give a damn
They look away when they see what I am
I've been like half a man but I could be whole
Won't you befriend this solitary soul?Got a lot of breezes left to blow
Where I'm going I don't know, oh
Got a lot of heartache I don't show
What it's like you'll never knowGot a lot of breezes left to blow
Where I'm going I don't know, oh
Got a lot of heartache I don't show
What it's like you'll never know
To be the solitary soulI see your heart
I know what you've been through, I know you
Come be a part you know you belong here
So dry your tears becauseLove beyond words, can fill your heart
Love beyond words, you'll feel a part
Love beyond words, you won't be alone anymoreI see your heart
I know what you've been through, I know you
Come be a part you know you belong here
So dry your tears becauseLove beyond words, can fill your heart
Love beyond words, you'll feel a part
Love beyond words, you won't be alone anymore
