

Midnight Tornado

Skid Row

The night approaches, after dark you have no chance Ooh, when moonlight takes the sky, you'll feel my dark romance I'm on your footsteps and I wait behind your back
I spread like fire upon the streets I'm ready to attack I'm the only thing you need
Upon your love I feed When the clock strikes midnight
I'm on the prowl of love
When the clock strikes midnight
The time is right to call you out When I'm feeling wicked and my blood is running hot
Electric is my touch baby you don't know what you've got Only in the evening at night I come alive
So try to keep your passion deep I need it to survive I'm the only thing you need
Upon your love I feed When the clock strikes midnight
I'm on the prowl of love
When the clock strikes midnight
The time is right to call you out When the clock strikes midnight
When the wicked moon starts to rise
When the clock strikes midnight
I'm alive When the clock strikes midnight
I'm on the prowl of love
When the clock strikes midnight
The time is right to call you out When the clock strikes midnight
When the wicked moon starts to rise
When the clock strikes midnight
I'm alive
