

Given In Death (feat. Sabine Weniger of Deadlock)

Heaven Shall Burn

Nothing but pain, nothing but anguish
Depriving me of mercy, refusing all compassion
These bare walls around me
My prison, my dungeon Deliver me to ransom,
No god can justify this cruelty
There's nothing left for me
There's nothing left but agony At last break down this dogma
Just let me go, just let me be
Just let it be my last breath
As all peace has left this world There is serenity given in death
Silence is falling down
So long ago I lost my anchor
As all my sorrows drown The turmoil of this world is not my struggle anymore
The end is putting down its hand for me,
I see, I feel As all my sorrows drown
Just let me go, just let me be
Just let it be my last breath
Days fade away, songs die away My peace of mind, given in death
As all peace has left this world
So long ago I lost my anchor
I'm longing for redemption The turmoil of this world is not my struggle anymore
The end is putting down its hand for me,
I see, I feel These bare walls around me
My prison, my dungeon
There's nothing left but agony The turmoil of this world is not my struggle anymore
Enclosed by the mists of oblivion,
Songs die away The turmoil of this world is not my struggle anymore
The end is putting down its hand for me,
I see, I feel
