This Is Not The Last Time

David Cook

I remember
When the world outside
Was just a picture
Where the colors come alive
Nothing broken
We were once so brave
Then the ocean
Came and took it all away
And all that I could say
This is not the last time
I will see the sun rise
Cause I've been dreamin' far too long
To give up and leave this behind
This is not the last time
Now we're older
But we're still the same
A little wiser
Oh, but we are not afraid
Of open waters
Let them take away
Everything

This is not the last time
I will see the sun rise
Cause I've been dreamin' far too long
To give up and leave this behind
This is not the only way
Tomorrow's holding on to another day
I know that this moment's real
Even thought it might feel like goodbye
This is not the last time
This is not a goodbye
This is just a lullaby
And everything will be alright
This is not the last time
I will see the sun rise
Cause I've been dreamin' far too long
To give up and leave this behind
This is not the only way

Tomorrow's holding on to another day
I know that this moment's real
Even thought it might feel like goodbye
This is not the last time
