

Swing Shift

Whippersnapper

When you first fell in love
I know you knew that it would never last
Felt like some thing's taken from you
Strange, how things they change so fast
Now I've grown so cold and bitter
A statue made of stone sometimes
I pray I wouldn't feel like I am
Somehow better off alone
Heard your conversation
It's not enough to make me change my mind
It's hard enough to live
With so much left inside
Heard your conversation
It's not enough to make me change my mind
It's hard enough to live
With so much left inside
I try to live my life
And take it step by step and day by day
Throw off these chains of instability
And find the light to lead my way
Answers, explanations, questions
Each bridge has its toll
I swore to God, I had more strength than that
But I'm not too strong to lose control
Heard your conversation
It's not enough to make me change my mind
It's hard enough to live
With so much left inside
Heard your conversation
It's not enough to make me change my mind
It's hard enough to live
With so much left inside
I'm so tired of waiting, it's somehow frustrating
To get it together, get out of this town
I'm so tired of waiting, it's somehow frustrating
To get it together, get out of this town
I'm so tired of waiting, it's somehow frustrating
To get it together, get out of this town
