Exhaler

Lovelife

I, I need a year or two
To count all of the people I've ever met
Only one hand to count the ones I've kept
But you, you need to break your neck
Throw yourself down the nearest stairs
I'll let you know when the ambulance is hereYou only breathe out, you have nothing left to give
If it's not your money, then it's something that I saidYou will never know, you will never know what you mean to me
You're just an exhaler, oh, oh
You will never know, you will never know what you mean to me
You're just an exhaler, oh, ohWe, we never made it to
The places where we said we were gonna go
Now you're just a name, a face I used to knowYou only breathe out, you have nothing left to give
If it's not your money, then it's something that I saidYou will never know, you will never know what you mean to me
You're just an exhaler, oh, oh
You will never know, you will never know what you mean to me
You're just an exhaler, oh, ohTake these hands to feel this pulse
Another day is a day too long
I forgive you, Oh, I forgive youTake these hands to feel this pulse
Another day is a day too long
I forgive you, I forgive you, Oh, I forgive youYou will never know, you will never know what you mean to me
You're just an exhaler, oh, ohYou will never know, you will never know what you mean to me
You're just an exhaler, oh, oh(I forgive you)
Take these hands to feel this pulse
(I forgive you)
Another day is a day too long
I forgive you, Oh, I forgive youTake these hands to feel this pulse
Another day is a day too long
I forgive you, I forgive you, Oh, I forgive you
