

We Come from the Same Place

Allo Darlin'

First snow's melting on the ground and I can see my breath in your silhouette and I remember what it felt like to be warm and to be safe in love And I know I have been holding out and now something's got to give but these pictures on your wall make it all feel so out of reach I'm afraid I'll fade away and I have to fight the urge to run away
Please believe me
I've never said this before
When we have an awkward call at the airport
it seems crazy I know but I've got this idea
that we've met before and we come from the same place When I tell you these things I'm really talking to myself I can't say everything will be okay I'm just trying to make it through another Tuesday It gives you goose bumps on your skin and I can't talk my tongue is tied You're not feeling very well And I can't tell if I'm sleeping or awake again... or dreaming... or awake
Please believe me
I've never said this before
an awkward call at the airport
and we come from the same place We come from the same place
