

Valley of Dry Bones

"Valley of Dry Bones"

By: Macy Hatfield

It's getting dark here
In my breath hangs around me
To my heart beat, ashes settle softly
Tomorrow you'll deke(?) their truths
I cannot understand, but can these dry bones really live?

In the valley we taste the inner water
It's getting colder and days getting darker
Tomorrow you'll set the sky a blazed with golden dret (?), and I'll see that I'm already dead...and I'll see that
I'm already dead

Heart of stone fight
Valley of bones have life
Hallelujah we cry
The heart of flesh for the first time

In the valley we taste the inner water
It's getting colder and days getting darker
Tomorrow you'll set the sky a blazed with golden ray (?), and I'll see that I'm already dead....and I'll see that
I'm already dead

Heart of stone fight
Valley of bones have life
Hallelujah we cry
The heart of flesh for the first time
