

Living In Sin

The Living End

Not one for violence
Not one to steal
Not one to break the law
Or make a deal
Cos innocence has left me long ago
My heart has now forgotten how to love
I became blinded by my goddamned life
I couldn't see or hear or tell wrong from right
Cos yesterday is just a memory
I close my eyes then it's gone
So how will I know (how will I know)
When the war is over
How will I know (how will I know)
When it doesn't matter
What I've done or where I've been
So till that day I'm living in sin
I've seen it once
I've seen it twice
Won't happen again
Not in this life
Cos yesterday is just a memory
I close my eyes then it's gone
So how will I know (how will I know)
When the war is over
How will I know (how will I know)
When it doesn't matter
What I've done or where I've been

So, till that day
Till that day
Till that day
I'm living in sin
How will I know
When the war is over
Tell me, how will I know
When it doesn't matter
Where I've been
Where I've been
Where I've been

Not one for violence
Not one to steal
Not one to break the law
Or make a deal
Cos innocence has left me long ago
My heart has now forgotten how to love
So how will I know (how will I know)
When the war is over
How will I know (how will I know)
When it doesn't matter
What I've done or where I've been
So, till that day
Till that day
Till that day
I'm living in sin

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnllyrics.com/>