

Time Will Tell

Roderick Taylor Falconer

Fingerprints on the window pane
I left a long time ago.
I swear to God
I'm the self same man Though you say that it's not so

Well some said
I wouldn't and one said I will Somebody said I'm falling and you say I fell Although my name is still the same thing Only time will tell Footprints in the stone

-- I see they're standing still The rain you sent it can't make a dent
These tracks ain't gonna fill

The heart alone is lonesome
waiting to be filled

Words fell from my tongue
-- God knows where they lie And if I should crack trying to bring them back the past will pass me by
