

Home Again

Beach House

Home again, driven back
She's still waiting for a friend
Remember what you've always meant to me
Swimming in the cold waters, head above the sand
With your heart in handfuls, forbidden flowers
Bread and bonnets along the way
Better take your chances while there's still a ray
Swimming in the cold waters, head above the sand
Must be you, the door to open
Home again, be here, be with him
Will I swim out of your ocean?
Must be you, the door to open
Home again, be here, be with him
Will I swim out of your ocean?
Must be you, the door to open
Home again, be here, be with him
Will I swim out of your ocean?
