

Just Another Psycho

Motley Crue

They opened up the door to my insanity
They should've slammed it shut right then and thrown away the key
They stitched up my head from my lobotomy
They should've never let me out I'm public enemy
I'm not okay, I'm not okay
The voices in my head always say
Voices in my head
I should be committed for being so twisted
'Cuz everyone knows I'm just another psycho
I went to the doctor, it wasn't a shocker
When he said I should know I'm just another psycho
Shoved into a hole, got covered up with dirt
And that's no way to treat someone whose feelings don't get hurt
I don't need a reason to hurt you just for fun
I terrorize your perfect life, yeah you better run
I'm not okay, I'm not okay
The voices in my head always say
Voices in my head
I should be committed for being so twisted
'Cuz everyone knows I'm just another psycho
I went to the doctor, it wasn't a shocker
When he said I should know I'm just another psycho
I'm not okay, I'm not okay
I should be committed for being so twisted
'Cuz everyone knows I'm just another psycho
I went to the doctor, it wasn't a shocker
When he said I should know I'm just another psycho
I should be committed for being so twisted
'Cuz everyone knows I'm just another psycho
I went to the doctor, it wasn't a shocker
When he said I should know I'm just another psycho
I'm just another psycho
