The Samples

For every minute that goes by there's an unanswered question with no reasons why there's an eagle perching in a dying tree with one eye on you, and one on me

And I hope to find peace on the sweet plains of Africa

For every second of my life there's a lion running through the night
there's an eagle perching in a dying tree there's a rhinoceros horn on our big tv

And I hope to find peace on the
sweet plains of Africa

there's a lion running through the night
there's an eagle perching in a dying tree there's an elephant tusk on our big tv

But I hope to find peace on the sweet plains of Africa
