

Right

Lewis Taylor

I believed in the old fashioned value of the human race
And the belief that it's usually a man
Who initiated what would lead to an act of love
Everytime that he turned his attention to a pretty face
He gotta get it on and that's the way that he was created
Bt the man in the sky above
I've discovered the truth about it
That men are not so strong
What my woman is trying to say is
What I should have known all along
That she's right and I'm wrong
Yes, she's right and I'm wrong
That she's right and I'm wrong
Yes, she's right and I'm wrong
Should a man raise a fuss
If a woman tells him what to do and
Just because of the fact that she knows something
That he doesn't should he be trying to put her down
'Cos you're wrong clinging on what tradition has been telling
You're not a super man
You better face that your daddy wasn't
If you wanna keep your lady hanging around
Once you've started to think about it
No matter what you do
Every different situation just goes to show that it's true
That she's right and I'm wrong
Yes, she's right and I'm wrong
Why do we better
This is the reason why we are constantly at war with each other
Don't you know that you head's in the sand
(Don't you know that it's always the same way round)
Just look back into history and you'll know, oh yeah
Talk to your lover let her know that you understand
Man so tough are you good enough to go waltzing into her life

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>