Quiet Down

Circa Survive

Come between us in our language we still talk, underneath and buried deep inside your ancient walls Replicate, and then erase Destination out of range Separate, and never say transformation incomplete

How could I change?
I never stayed with you and never stopped regretting it Search for my name, and never say youâ€™re sorry,
an accident within itself

Stay within reach
The answers you seek are everywhere, you just have to quiet down Lay back and know
the less that you show beyond regret,
the further you go

Just as the first words you spoke, just as the fire you burn out, a circle that haunts the moonlight, a vision that haunts you in the night

Keep it inside!

In our story, you had everything you want Taste regret in all the faces we have seen before Cut away, and separate Destination: self-destruct Replicate, and never say all of it was just a lie

How could I change?
I never stayed with you, and never stopped regretting it Search for my name, and never say youâ€™re sorry
An accident within itself

Stay within reach!
The answers you seek are everywhere,
You just have to quiet down
Lay back and know
the less that you show beyond regret,
the further you go
