

Shelter

Dermot Kennedy

So step inside, cuz that night is cold. It don't deserve such a smile.
And it's not enough, for it to show up every once in awhile.
In the moonlight, I should, kiss you in Samhain, throw it all down.
Wouldn't that be cool? To kill the guard, open the gates for feelings unbound.

But I've been keeping hope. And I've got a fairy tale in my heart, I can cope.
I've been keeping hope. Bet they had you in mind when naming the rose.

Only knows bout how I won't be here later.
Don't forget bout how she had you feeling major.
And he tried to write down how he felt bout the girl, kept running out of paper. He'll wait for her.

Ooo.

He was feeling fucking awesome, be a good man like you taught him.
Don't get caught up in caution when love exists.
So step inside, cuz that night is cold. It don't deserve such a smile.

We'll be alright.
I could never lie about caring a lot.
