Nothing To Do But Dream

Jolie Holland

Oh, the sun's too bright
And the mountains are too far
And there's nowhere in town
I can get to in my broken carI've got nowhere to go but to sleep
I would shut my eyes but I've got promises to keep
I can't go crazy and I can't get sane
And I don't want to leave, I'd just have to come back againI've got nowhere to go but to sleep
I would shut my eyes but I've got promises to keepI remember, I remember something about who we were
I remember, I remember something about who we could be
I've had nothing to do for years but dreamI got reckless and I broke my baby's rule
And I'm sick and restless with the wandering blues
'Cause most of my friends are gone down the line
And I'm sitting in town on the proceeds of my crimesI've got nowhere to go but to sleep
I would shut my eyes but I've got promises to keepI took my sister to the river and I came back alone
And this sickness that's on me is settling in my bones
And my daddy is suspicious but I know how he does
He won't find out about it till she's safe down in the mudWith nowhere to go but to sleep
I would follower her down but I've got promises to keepI remember, I remember something about who we were
I remember, I remember something about who we could be
I've had nothing to do for years but dream
I've had nothing to do for years but dream
