

Another Angel Down

Tobias Sammet's Avantasia

I am the master of the game that made a fool of you
I'm watching from the highest tower
You've got the aura to enchant them - and a symphony and I've got the power
You better taste - they call it life: my special area
I'm breeding winners over there
Ain't it a sin to turn your back
On what you're given
It's time to take your share
God left me for dead - I've been turning my head
Away from the living - the time has come
To gamble for gain - To tear down the gate
And see what's inside
--[Chorus]--
We rock the ball
Been smashed to the ground
Arose from devotion to take a look and see what is inside.
Sight of the crown: Another angel down
We rock the ball
I'm facing my pain
A rage and a symphony driven by the wounds I cannot hide

Rise above the crowd: Another angel down
--[Chorus]--
We see a black hole will be left up in the starry sky
We gotta mourn another angel
If I am just a light descending to caducity
It's still so far away
There's no tomorrow
I dont remember yesterday
I'm just living for tonight
And all we learn I'm not gonna waste no more
I won't spare what's devine
They left you for dead
Turning your head
Away from the living

From flesh and blood
You've got the draw, and desire to claw
For fortune and fame

[Chorus]2x

Note: Other lyrics for this song that I have found have minor differences compared to mine but if you listen for yourself and compare I think you'll find that mine are correct.
