Why

Crossfade

Walking madly, feeling strangely

And I'm not sure where to go

I got a funny feeling, have I lost my meaning

Wish I could go homeYou said you were leaving, I didn't let it affect me

Sat on a bar and let them flow

Now lost and lonely, I wish you never told me

What I didn't wanna knowAnd I will crawl on my own

I'm taken by your smile

As I'm lying, beside you dying

Inside I don't knowWhy I try to save this

When all I ever wanna do

Is get it as far as I can go

Well, it's nothing left of me and You're now worthless

To me you are no more

I'm as far as I can go

Nothing left of me and youAs if the buzz would help me, think it just maybe crazy

It can't pull me out of this hole

Say you could not save me, you wouldn't stay to watch me

It was too much on your soulAnd now I'm feeling alright, to get us back to rise

And you know where I can't find

No longer living badly, it seemed to be bad timing

'Cause you walked into the nightAnd I will crawl on my own

I'm taken by your smile

As I'm lying, beside you dying

Inside I don't know whyWhy I try to save this

When all I ever wanna do

Is get it as far as I can go

Well, it's nothing left of me and You're now worthless

To me you are no more

I'm as far as I can go

Nothing left of me and you

There's nothing left of me and youAnd I will crawl on my own

I'm taken by your smile

As I'm lying, beside you dying

Inside I don't know

Why, come on, why, come on
