

The River

The Mud Howlers

I've been thrown to the river going down, going down
I was born a believer and I can't change that beam of light trough my soul piece of lead trough my heart now I'm dead by the river little late for changing that I've been thrown to the river going down, going down
I was born a believer
and I can't change that
beam of light trough my soul
piece of lead trough my heart
now I'm dead by the river
little late for changing that little late for changing that I've got a debt on my back and I just checked on my pocket it's almost empty,
I was supposed to be rich successful married and kids when I was twenty three,
And I remember my popa saying hold on your horses life ain't easy,
I didn't knew till I grew and now I know that it's true, Yeah life ain't easy. Since I was born a felt the way
And I didn't have much to say We took our things head on our way We didn't even say
We didn't even say goodbye.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>