

Maybe You Should Know

Kenny Rogers

Seems to me that we've been friends forever
We spend our time together as all good friends will do
But the silence only lies, if you could read my eyes
They hold another feeling I could show you Maybe you should know just how much I love you
In my life there's no one else above you
Maybe I should hope you find out for yourself somehow
Or maybe I should tell you now Maybe I should wait and take my chances
A good dancer never dances until he hears the cue
But the orchestra is gone, they've left us all alone
There's no one here to tell me how to tell you Maybe you should know just how much I love you
In my life there's no one else above you
Maybe I should hope you find out for yourself somehow
Or maybe I should tell you now

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>