

Farewell Farewell

Mary Black

Farewell, farewell to you who would hear
    You lonely travellers all
    The cold north winds will blow again
The winding road does call. And will you never return to see
    Your bruised and beaten sons
    O I would, I would if welcome I were
For they loathe me every one. And will you never cut the cloth
    Nor drink the light to be
    And can you never swear a year
To anyone but he. No I will never cut the cloth
    Nor drink the light to be
    But I'll swear a year to he who lies
Asleep alongside of me. Repeat first verse
