

Famous Last Words

Wanda Jackson

I'll be right, I'll be wrong, I'll be weak, I'll be strong
Maybe life won't be a song but you'll always have my love
There'll be times I make you blue, do the things I shouldn't do Promises that won't come true but you'll always have my love We may not own this world and the stars up in the sky
But, darling, love is something that money can't buy
I may lose, I may win, be your lover, be your friend
Just remember thick or thin, you will always have my love We may not own this world and the stars up in the sky
But, darling, love is something that money can't buy
Just remember thick or thin, you will always have my love
