Sincerely

Stephen

I'm callin' this the love crusade,
The truth is like a black bouquet,
Money's got us all enslaved,
The bullets and the bombs we make, Oh no,It doesn't have to be this way,
But I promise it'll stay this way,
If you would rather hear me say,
That everything is all ok,I don't care for your drugs, I don't care for your fame,
Do you care for the truth if you're not entertained?
I can see through your eyes, I can see through your pain,
And you're scared to admit you feel out of place,Can you hear that darlin',
A revolution's callin',
No child of ours should have to starve,
Should have to die for us,
Can you feel that darlin',
The monsters marching
This is it, this invitation is,
For the ones who love,Sincerely,
I'm tellin' you the world looks perfect from a plane,
A couple miles up and we all look the same,
One love tryna show us the way,
One love that is tryin' to change,
And if we connect with that, then we should be enraged,
These fat cats want us lost in the maze,
And they're scared 'cause we're breakin' the chain,
They're scared 'cause we're about to escape,Can you hear that darlin',
A revolution's callin',
No child of ours should have to starve,
Should have to die for us,
Can you feel that darlin',
The monsters marching
This is it, this invitation is,
For the ones who love,Sincerely,
There's a billion people,
That could use a hero,
Come together, we're the tether,
Of this love that's spinnin' round,
We could be that miracle,Can you hear that darlin',
A revolution's callin',
No child of ours should have to starve,

Should have to die for us,
Can you feel that darlin',
The monsters marching
This is it, this invitation is,
For the ones who love,
Sincerely,

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/