The Lost Feeling

Saint Vitus

I live inside you Depression is my name I'll crack your world with Bitter mental games You try to suppress me But nothing holds me down Just when you think you're happy I come aroundI was meant to be A punishment to you A thorn in your side A cancer eating through I twist reality And make it hard to bear I am the only thing left When love isn't thereI'm taking over I'll snap your mind in two I'll make suicide seem Like the right thing to do You try to drown me With alcohol and pills But in the end you are The only one it kills
