Everyone Loves To Love A Lie

Howie Day

She put her shoulder down into the rain
She doesn't know how she's gonna explain
The way it's always been it'll probably be again
'Cause everyone loves to love a lieCan't wait for the rain to stop falling
Such a victim of circumstance

On the edge and she thinks of running Shattering all their plansLate again and he won't stop calling

Such a victim of her romance

Struck down by a strange cold addiction

He never had a chanceShe'll need a miracle to keep her feet down on the ground

She'll need a miracle if she's ever to be found

Yeah, and I swear it won't be long

'Cause everyone loves to love a lieBy the glow of a red light flashing She's a vision of poetry

Not sure just where she's crashing

Or who she's supposed to be Doesn't know if it's him she's feeling

Doesn't know if it's someone else

Around the bend there's a wrong turn coming

She's putting it on herselfShe'll need a miracle just to keep her feet down on the ground

She'll need a miracle if she's ever to be found

Yeah, and I swear it won't be long

'Cause everyone loves to love a lieShe'll go where she wants to go

Where she wants to go, where she wants to goShe'll need a miracle just to keep her feet down on the ground She'll need a miracle if she's ever to be found

Yeah, and I swear it won't be long

'Cause everyone loves to love a lie'Cause everyone loves to love a lie

'Cause everyone loves to love a lie
