

Testify

Kevon

Jesus died for all, knowing that most would just abandon him. Ain't nobody good, not even one, so why be arrogant? He died on the cross for all our sin. No sign of selfishness, he carried it.

For my sins, the rest of it, he buried. Commandment show us how far we are, all our hearts full of sin. You were told to follow your heart, but this here is within.

Look, stop leaning on your understanding. Put your trust in him. He got everything you want in Baltimore, all we need is him.

I can't worry about what happens next. Glory be to God. I won't sling no water out the way, cause my soul fly.

Alabama, how we roll tight, like aloha. How I ain't seeking from the storm, cause bro, I know my. Falling on my knees, on my knees, no longer hold my keys.

He walk overseas, oversee my sin, but oh, I see. Oh, oh, oh, I see. Oh, look, look, it's imperative.

Gotta change the narrative. All our lives, we've been told to be heartless, cause ain't no sharing it. All the thoughts you impose is entertainment for your character.

Eyes are feeding your soul, so be careful on what you letting in. Agreeing to the settlements, you ain't even know that you had. Proclaiming verses you rehearsed, but made the potency bad.

Yeah, I changed my attitude. Power in your tongue, so when I talk, I speak in gratitude. Mercy fall like latitude.

Living in his grace, I know. He restored this place, I know. You can't fill your world with thrills.

Living life is more than hymns, and living life is more than milk. Jesus gave his life for him to show us how we're meant to live. Sacrificial ordinary.

Prophecies he came to fill according to his plan. It's about redeeming what was meant before the sin. Made to live forever, but we've changed up.

God ain't ever switched before Nintendo had a name. Can't no system ever tame us. Many thinking that they've been living flameless.

Counterfeited from the vine. Ain't living from no source, but hoping that ain't your time. Any can be redeemed if you have life, then it's your sign.

Back in the days of Noah, they all thought that he was lying. Jesus knowing what it cost, and still winning a pay the fine. Came back from a 0 and 3, and he wasn't even in his prime.

Like, whoa. Really living in a limelight. Many been hurt by the church, and I understand.

Jesus being included, he's still winning. Stretch the hand. Shout the spirit by the spirit.

Mary had a lamb, and he showed up. What it really mean to pick the phone up? Still don't tell what all his people tried to stone on. Many claiming the name, but where's the fruit by what was sown? I can't fake the change he paid for me.

Patient, and I'm gracefully pacing. I ain't racing, but can't waste time on what's made for me. By his spirit, I'm made free.

I know that I'm sealed up. The solid foundation under everything we build up. I can't really feel it, because he know all I ever done.

99 better people, but look at me like the one. He gave his son, but I can't say I did enough. Surrendering my life for sacrifice, I had to give it up.

Hands high. Your honor, I'm just a witness trying to testify. But the court is in your hands now.

Amen.

Lyrics Submitted by ISRAEL OLAOZI-MOSES

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>