

Chameleon

Warrant

You always change your colors
When you find yourself in a fix
And when you get yourself in trouble
You just pack your bags and split And you're off to find a new love
Who doesn't know you like some do
Put on a smile like it's make up
Protection from the truth You better find out which road your on
You can't change who you are by the colors you put on
You better find somebody to lean on
Make up your mind, Chameleon If they don't have what you need
You won't need them right back
And if they gave you the world
You'd find something wrong with that You better find out which road your on
You can't change who you are by the colors you put on
You better find somebody to lean on
Make up your mind, Chameleon You always change your colors
When you found yourself in a fix
And when you could get yourself in trouble
You can pack your bags and split You better find out which road your on
You can't change who you are by the colors you put on
You better find somebody to lean on
Make up your mind, Chameleon
