

Still Lovin' You

Sammy Kershaw

I thought you might want to stay if I put my guitar away
Quit the band and came home to stay but that wouldn't do
And this old guitar of mine used to ease my troubled mind
But now every day I find that it's lonesome too
Here I go again blowin' my show again
Unable to glow again still lovin' you
Losin' my hope again at the end of my rope again
Unable to cope again still lovin' you
I must of been a million miles, I must have faked a million smiles
I just can't get reconciled to be without you
And I'd like to start again and replay my part again
And not break your heart again, I can stand these blues
Here I go again blowin' my show again
Unable to glow again still lovin' you
Losin' my hope again at the end of my rope again
Unable to cope again but still lovin' you
I'm unable to cope again still lovin' you

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>