Consequences

Sissy Nobby

As human beings, we're a complex thing
Sometimes so beautiful, other times so vain
We've built an Empire
the blood is on our hands
Genocide and the chains that bind
The consequences aheadOh. you ought to know
Oh. you ought to knowWrote about in history as if it's all O.K.
A race of people murdered, another one enslaved
Now our world crumbles, it's happening within Open your eyes and realize
The world we're living inOh, you ought to know
Oh, you ought to knowIf we could focus on important things
Live and let live true freedom not everyone's the same
No more war for your god,
No more war for your race,
It's our world, It's what we make it
Make it a better placeOh, you ought to know Oh, you ought to knowWe can change the world that we're living in
Live and let live true freedom
Let the reign begin
