

Lost My Mind

Jonah the Runner

I kept myself sane for you, and i know that this seems strange but i can't stand the way that you take my breath away because my lungs are all dried up, and i feel incomplete i lost the girl that i love, it haunts me in my dreams So keep me in your thoughts at night, and ill keep you in mine wondering if you'll remember that night i lost my mind it kills me that you're ok, when i'm just not alright keeping track of every tear and every sleepless night

So when you left, if you care to know, you took a part of me
You crushed my heart, stole my faith, and brought me to my knees
Now everywhere I look you're the only thing I see I can't stand him loving you when you should be loving me
So keep me in your thoughts at night
And I'll keep you in mine, it kills me that you never cared and never had the time
You asked me to stick around and that's not fair to do
I hate myself for being me and also for loving you

So tell me you love me
That'll just kill me
You left me here
And now I'm just waiting For something to change
Way deep inside me
But I guess for now
I'm stuck unhappy
I think I need to let you go
